Nominations Opened For Annual Elections To Student Council

Wrong Interpretation Placed Upon Constitution and By-laws

Nominations for election to the Student Council are now open. The period for nominating began last Tuesday, March 8, and will extend to Monday, April 4, at 6 p. m. Petitions, prepared according to the rules published in last week's Hatchet, must be in the office of Dean Henry Grattan Doyle by that time in order to be considered. Approximately three weeks remain in which to submit a petition.

Most important during the past week was a noticeable inclination among a few students to place an interpretation upon the Constitution and By-Laws relating to the eligibility of a candidate which would make possible a double meaning. All agree, of course, that a student now enrolled in a particular department may be nominated by the students of his department to represent that department, provided he meets the other requisites of eligibility.

The second possibility contended is that a student who is now enrolled in a particular department but who expects to complete the course in that department this year and expects to enter some other department next year is eligible to run for representative in the department in which he expects to be enrolled next year. The fallacy in permitting such a thing is apparent. He may never get to the department he hopes to enter. The Constitution recognizes this fact and

Phi Pi Epsilon Will Entertain at Meeting

Mrs. Benjamin Wallace and F. M. Anderson to Speak at Guest Meeting

With Mrs. Benjamin B. Wallace and F. M. Anderson as guest speakers, Phi Pi Epsilon, foreign service fraternity for women, will entertain at a formal program meeting this evening at 8:30 at the Hay-Adams House, in honor of the active and alumni members of Delta Phi Epsilon, men's foreign service fraternity.

Mrs. Wallace, recently returned from China, is the wife of the advisor of the Minister of Finance of China. Mr. Anderson, the assistant solicitor of the State Department, has just completed a Mediterranean trip, where he went in interest of the Government.

Announcement is also made of the election of officers, held on March 3, which resulted in the choice of Dorothy Niess as president; Anna Maren Syvertson, vice president; Margaret Liebler, secretary; and Evelyn Kerr, treasurer.

The retiring officers, Mildred Burnham, Evelyn Eller and Cecile Harrington, were named first national president, national secretary and national treasurer, respectively. Mrs. John Donaldson was unanimously elected national vice president in recognition of her services to Phi Pi Epsilon, into which she was initiated last June.

Teachers Will Visit University March 22

Major Students Entertain District Physical Education Association

George Washington University will be host to the Physical Education Association of the District of Columbia at their monthly meeting on March 22. The major students in physical education will act as hostesses and guides to the members of the association, all of whom are teachers of physical education in the District.

The meeting will be in the form of round table discussions in two groups. Topics for the first group concern aptitude and motor ability tests and grading in physical education.

The second group will discuss "individual versus group activities." At this time there will also be a demonstration of posture pictures taken by the Schematograph and Silhouettegraph. The majors will assist in this demonstration.

The closing number on the program will be a style show. Models will display gymnasium, sport, and bathing suits, and hockey and dancing tunics furnished by several gymnasium outfitting firms.

Appeal for Gift of Piano Issued by Lambie House

Lambie House issues an appeal to all loyal friends of the University. That is to say, it stands ready, in a spirit of magnanimous generosity, not unmixed with an outlook to its own advantage, to offer a home to one of those parlor adornments known as a good piano, with the assurance that such a piece of furniture in Lambie House will be much more than a mere adornment.

The University budget being positively non-stretchable, Lambie House, a center for extra-curricular activities, is likely to continue in poverty as far as music is concerned, unless some kind soul with a superfluous piano takes pity on its unblest state.

Panhellenic Council Will Fete Scholars

Sorority and Non-sorority Women Will Be Guests Saturday, March 19

Sorority and non-sorority women who obtained the highest scholastic ratings for the past semester will be guests at the annual Panhellenic Scholarship Luncheon to be held at the Hay-Adams House, Saturday, March 19, at 1 o'clock.

The senior Panhellenic delegate, the pledge, and the active of each sorority who will attend are: Pi Beta Phi, Jean Fly, Mabel Money, Marie Siegert; Chi Omega, Ruth Warren, Lethama de Shazo, Elizabeth Rose, Sigma Kappa, Marion Ziegler, Edith Spaulding, Marjorie Butler, Edith M. Brown, Theta Upsilon, Myrtle Williams; Alpha Delta Phi, Elizabeth Rees, Margaret Richards, Cecile Harrington; Kappa Delta, Louise Wright, Esther Talley, Ruth Allen; Delta Zeta, Helen Clarke, Elizabeth Brown, Helen Lyon; Alpha Delta Theta, Gladys Wright, Helen Waters, Grace Hall; Zeta Tau Alpha, Grace White, Gladys Reun, Katherine Phelps; Phi Delta, Grace Bauer, Elizabeth Neyman; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Edith McCoy, Adele Merriam, Mary Detwiler.

The highest ranking non-sorority woman in each of the four classes will also be a guest. Due to the pressure of University work, the Registrar's office has not yet been able to furnish these names. They will be announced later in the week.

Louise Berryman, president of Panhellenic Council, will act as toastmistress and will introduce the honor guests, Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, Mrs. Joshua Evans, Jr., Mrs. Mallory, Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, Miss Anna Pearl Cooper, and Mrs. Vinnie G. Barrows.

French Club Hears Doctor Marc Peter

Kennedy-Warren Scene of Well-Attended Social Meeting

The French Club had as its guest speaker at a social meeting held at the Kennedy-Warren on March 10, Dr. Marc Peter, Swiss Minister to the United States. Dr. Peter was introduced by Marie Siegert and spoke concerning the lives and writings of Anatole France and M. Valerle.

The meeting, which was well attended, was one of a series of such functions which have been planned for the purpose of developing facility in the use of spoken French among the members of the club. Present plans call for monthly luncheon meetings for the balance of the school year and all attending the meetings will be expected to speak only French.

Cue and Curtain Try-outs

Wednesday and Thursday

Cue and Curtain announces try-outs Wednesday evening at 7:30 in Corcoran Hall 33 for the club's spring play which will be presented at Wardman Park Theater in the latter part of April.

Try-outs will be continued on the following evening, Thursday, March 17, and on the second evening applicants for positions on the business and production staffs are requested to be present.

Every position is open to all University students, and those with talent in any line connected with play production are urged by Cue and Curtain to be present on the try-out evenings.

Speaker Tells 300 About Law Types At Annual Banquet

President Marvin Praises Dean Van Vleck at Yearly Legal Affairs

Three hundred students, alumni, and guests were present at the Seventeenth Annual Banquet of the Law School, which was given at the Willard Hotel Saturday, March 12. Dean William Cabell Van Vleck was toastmaster and introduced the speakers.

Hon. James Grafton Rogers, Assistant Secretary of State, was the principal speaker of the evening. It was previously announced in The Hatchet that he would talk on "The Role of the Lawyer in International Affairs." Instead, Dr. Rogers gave a short history of "The Types of American Lawyers." He suggested that most American lawyers, from the beginning, may be roughly catalogued into nine distinct "types." Dr. Rogers is a lawyer himself, one of long experience and well qualified to talk on such a subject. He made his discourse especially interesting by including thumbnail sketches of the men who were the antitypes of his divisions. Dr. Rogers is the dean of The University of Colorado Law School, and is on leave while serving in the State Department during the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, president of The George Washington University, was the first speaker. At the request of Dean Van Vleck, Dr. Marvin gave a hasty summary of the strides made by the University in the past four years.

Marvin Praises Van Vleck
In the course of his remarks Dr. Marvin pointed out that this year is the twentieth anniversary of Dean Van Vleck's association with the Law School. He eulogized the Dean's past record at length; and much to the Dean's surprise and extreme embarrassment he called upon everyone to congratulate themselves highly upon having such an eminently worthwhile

Gives Talk Before Delta Phi Epsilon

Edwin B. George Relates Many Incidents Experienced in Travels

Personal experiences in foreign service formed the basis of a talk by Edwin B. George, chief of the Marketing Service Division, Department of Commerce, at the March 7 meeting of Delta Phi Epsilon at the T. U. O. house.

Mr. George related the incidents which stood out most prominently in his memory of foreign travels in which he covered more than 300,000 miles.

On the more serious phases of a career in foreign service, Mr. George pointed out that despite slow business conditions at present there will be tremendous opportunities for students of today when financial adjustments between nations are brought about.

Cherry Tree Subscriptions Time Limit Extended Till April 1, Bain Announces

Advance in Sales Causes Extension of Time Limit; Distribution Record Indicated; All Written Copy Goes to Printer Next Monday

Cherry Tree subscriptions will be received up to April 1, according to announcement made by Wendell Bain, business manager of that publication. This is due to special arrangements made with the printing concern to accept a further order for the books on that date.

Cuts are now in the hands of the engraver, and all written copy goes in March 21, when printing will actually begin.

Sales to date are already in advance of previous years. This significant fact caused the extension of the time limit for orders, as the management of the publication believes that many students would be left out if the original deadline were adhered to.

Students should bear in mind that only enough copies are ordered to fill an all-time record in distribution.

A subscription blank appears below. Fill it in and mail, with your check, to either the Business Manager of the Cherry Tree or the Bursar of the University.

Business Manager, Cherry Tree,

Men's Debate Team Will Oppose Colgate

Seymour Mintz and Richard Marks to Represent George Washington

George Washington University's debating team will meet the Colgate University team at 11 a. m. Friday, March 18, in room 22, Concord Hall. The George Washington team will uphold the negative of the question, "Resolved, That Congress Should Enact Legislation Providing for the Centralized Control of Industry," and will be represented by Seymour Mintz and Richard Marks. This debate renews relations between these two teams which have lapsed for a period of years.

Again, at 8:15 p. m., Monday, March 21, in room 10, Stockton Hall, the George Washington team will meet the Boston University debating team, upholding the negative of the same question, and will be represented by Archie Oram, Wilburn West, and Ralph Gilby.

Both of these debates will be non-decisions, and will terminate the debating year.

Economic Systems Subject Of Two Women's Debates

Elizabeth Reeves, Hilda Hayes, and Louise Bruce, women debaters of the George Washington University, argued on the negative side of the question: "Resolved that socialism is preferable to capitalism as a system of economic organization," at New York University in New York Thursday, March 10, and on the same question Friday, March 11, at Boston University at Boston. No decision has been made.

Combined Glee Clubs Giving Concert at Fox

Success of Program Predicted by Results of Previous Performances

Announcement has been made that the combined men's and women's Glee Clubs will appear at the Fox Theatre during the week beginning March 25. The program, as tentatively arranged, calls for a cathedral ensemble of about eighty voices. It is hoped this will repeat the success of the performances of the men's Glee Club at the Fox last year. This will make the fifth time the club has appeared at Washington theatres, having previously performed at the Rialto, Keith's, and Earle.

Both of the clubs have been exceptionally busy this season, the men's Glee Club appearing in more than twenty performances. The concerts of late include full length programs with the women's club. They sang March 4 at the Wesleyan Methodist Church, March 5, at the Mt. Vernon Place Methodist Church, and March 14 at the Stansbury Lodge. Robert Cushman, baritone, has been soloist at several of the concerts and has been popularly received.

Faculty Women Plan Program of Playlets

Pay Tribute to Memory of George Washington at March Meeting

A "Colonial Program" given in tribute to the memory of George Washington will feature the March meeting of the Faculty Women of The George Washington University. It will take place Friday afternoon in the large parlors of the Hay-Adams House at 4 o'clock, with Mrs. John Donaldson, chairman, presiding. Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, wife of the president of the University, and honorary chairman of the faculty women's group, will assist in receiving the guests.

Mrs. Thomas Brown, chairman of the entertainment committee for March, will preside at the tea table, and assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Oscar B. Hunter, chairman of the hospitality committee; Mrs. Cline N. Chipman, Mrs. Daniel H. Buchanan, Mrs. Richard N. Owens, and Mrs. Warren Reed West.

Home Economics Sorority Recently Established Here

Alpha Pi Epsilon, an honorary Home Economics fraternity, has recently been established at George Washington University. The newly-elected officers for the fraternity are: President, Anna Mary Lloyd; vice president, Mildred Onwake; secretary, Kathryn Gray; treasurer, Sarah Brisker; and historian, Catherine Cowall.

The purpose of the fraternity is to promote the social and professional welfare and advancement of its members; to promote greater interest in Home Economics at George Washington; to cooperate with the departmental and college activities; to establish higher standards of scholarship among the Home Economics students; to develop personality, leadership, initiative, and social poise in its members.

Paul Tremaine's 15-piece orchestra will play for the annual prom of the Interfraternity Council to be given in the ball room of the Shoreham Hotel Friday evening from 10 until 2 o'clock.

One of the biggest events on the social calendar of the council fraternities each year, the forthcoming one should prove particularly attractive. A change in the scene of the festivities, and a band of national prominence have been factors in promoting a successful ticket sale. Several professional groups and some fraternities not members of the council have reserved boxes for the affair.

Dancing will commence at 10 o'clock, but the actual program will not begin until 11 o'clock. Programs will not be given out until Friday night, at the door, so temporary ones must be made up. Dance number six on the program will be the Grand March. There will be 14 numbers on the program. Cutting will be allowed on the third selection of each number.

The Grand March will be led by Katherine Blake, escorted by John T. Vivian, social chairman of the Interfraternity Council, and Ruth Remon, escorted by C. Manley Fesler, president.

Immediately after the grand march loving cups will be awarded to the winners of the various sports in interfraternity competition, and following this, the Razzberry will be placed on sale. A man will be stationed at each

One-Act Plays Given By Cue and Curtain

Make Appearance at General Student Assembly Tomorrow in Corcoran

Cue and Curtain will present two one-act plays at a general student assembly tomorrow at 12:10 in Corcoran Hall 10. Miss Constance Brown, who directed "The Queen's Husband," is directing the plays.

Mrs. Barrows urges the student body to take this opportunity to see what Cue and Curtain is doing and what it can do.

The characters in the first play, "Etiquette," are Adele Gusack, who was active in dramatics at Central High School, and Newell Lusby, who has a part in "Fog," one of the successful entrants in the District one-act play tournament.

The second play, "Matter of Husbands," is by Ferenc Molnar, author of "Lilium," and "The Good Fairy," now playing on Broadway. The characters are Jane Rhoades, who was in dramatics at Western High School, and Phyllis Mills, who had a leading part in "The Cassilis Engagement" at George Washington last spring, was the production manager of "The Queen's Husband," and is president of the Cue and Curtain Club.

Enthusiastic Group Hears Hans Kindler

Large Audience Hears/Noted National Conductor Speak Here

Hans Kindler, conductor of the National Symphony Orchestra, addressed a large enthusiastic audience at the open assembly on Wednesday, March 9. He spoke of his ambition to organize a symphony orchestra in Washington, when, upon his arrival in the United States, he found the capital city lacking one. This desire was realized last fall.

Mr. Kindler expressed his belief that college people, equally ambitious as the young men in the Symphony Orchestra, are in sympathy with them, and have it in their power to help them. They can make possible a second season of concerts, to continue the work which has been so auspiciously begun. They can plan to attend next season's concerts, tickets for which, Mr. Kindler pointed out, are very reasonably priced in comparison to those of most symphony orchestras.

A Party Issue

Objection has been raised, in a letter to the editor, to the provision in the by-laws of the Student Council requiring candidates for membership to be registered in the school in which they seek election.

This problem has been discussed from every angle by the present Council and it is felt that a solution which will take care of conditions as they exist at George Washington under the present system is improbable, and the provision now in effect best takes care of the difficulty.

However, if there be a feasible plan, and the student body desires a change, the plan can be incorporated in the platform of candidates and made a party issue in the elections. Here is one issue which is bound to stir up interest among the students. The change may be effected by voting for the nominee who establishes his platform in favor of it.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:
Poor Student Council! Here they have been working all year on a brand new Constitution for their constituents (no pun intended), and someone like me comes along and tries to "break their wagon down," as it were. But it seems necessary to publish this point in connection with the publication of the new constitution.
It is quite safe to state that the new eligibility requirements for membership on the Council have resulted from complaints which caused quite a stir among the students. The rhetoric class last year, sponsored by the class of '34, we complained, and we thought rightly so, about the rulings which did not take in consideration the fact that Junior College was an entity, and established forty-five semester hours as a requisite for eligibility to serve on the Council. They evidently heard our cry and changed the ruling to fifteen hours and we are grateful.

But, now comes the "rub," they went to the other extreme and fixed it so that students having thirty and forty-five hours and carrying a full course are now made absolutely ineligible; where before they were given everything they now have nothing. This they accomplished by the ruling that a candidate must be in the college he seeks to represent, both at the time of election and the ensuing year. Surely the far-reaching effects of such a ruling could not have been noticed at the time of framing, or the overworked (in all circumstances) Council would not have included it in the constitution.
For example, let us take the case of Junior College. In the first place it allows only freshmen to be candidates for Student Council, because they alone can satisfy the requirement of signing an affidavit saying that they will be in the college they are to serve the following year. Secondly, it neither permits sophomores who next year will be in another college, to vote for representatives from their prospective college, nor "run" for the Council themselves under any banner; surely it is an injustice to students who are in the University for almost two years to be virtually robbed of a voice in the affairs of that University. The ruling also prevents absolutely the reelection of a worthy student, who since election, has passed all his courses and is ready to pass on into another college.

Europe Travelogue Will Be Included in Program

The International Student's Society is sponsoring a social and musicale, Wednesday, March 23, at 8:00 p. m. The program, in part, will consist of a movie showing several interesting and picturesque parts of Roumania. There will also be several musical selections to be executed both vocally and instrumentally. These will consist of numbers of seven foreign countries including, Germany, Hungary, Poland, France, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Greece.

Members are privileged to bring their friends, but all those interested in the society or its activities, can find out particulars by calling Anne Bond, at National 7920, after 5:30, or by contacting any member of the society.

Alpha Delta Pi Will Meet

Chi Omega Bridge Team
Chi Omega and Alpha Delta Pi will play the finals of the Panhellenic Bridge Tournament at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, March 15, in the Chi Omega rooms. The winner of this match will be awarded a silver loving cup at the Panhellenic Prom.

Doris Skinker and Dorothy Hefebower represent Chi Omega, and Grace Dutton, and Dolly Tschifely, Alpha Delta Pi.
In the first round played last Tuesday night at the Kappa Delta House, Phi Delta, Phi Mu, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Kappa Delta were defeated. Chi Omega, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Alpha Delta Pi were victorious after the second round played Wednesday night.

CHIPS

So this is Prom week. Rollo has his ticket on an IOU, his tux through the courtesy of his fraters, and his date, "Lucky Woman," has been told gently but firmly for the tenth time that there will be no corsage. He now awaits the terrible verdict—will he or will he not be mentioned in the Razzberry?

The Queen of Promoters, person of parts and importance, as well as ex-president of Phi Pi Epsilon, plays an ace and perpetrates another outrage on the male populace by throwing a joint meeting of the two foreign service groups and forcing the men to appear in tux just to munch that usual half a brick of ice cream and Nabisco cookie. "Kiss me, my fool!"

The appearance of corsages on the new Sigma Kappa initiates (sign of unexpected wealth), leads us to suggest that the ole frigiditate might keep them fresh until Prom night.

"No voting by proxy" in the coming W. A. A. elections has an ominous sound—more sorority dirty work. Rollo suggests that they raise the fees and thus make it worthwhile to plaster this title beside their Cherry Tree photos.

The French Club gets this week's medal for cleverness. They finally silenced the wagging tongues of their own members by conducting the meeting entirely in French. The Hatchet moguls are thinking of holding staff meetings in Sanskrit with the hope of accomplishing similar results.

DICK ROLLO.

Nominations Opened for Student Council Elections

thus it is provided in Article II, Section 3:

"A student to be eligible for membership on the Student Council shall be enrolled in the department he seeks to represent, and shall have completed a minimum of fifteen semester hours' work in this University..."

The words "A student..." shall be enrolled in the department he seeks to represent... are clear and unequivocal. "Shall" is mandatory. If a student seeks to represent Columbian College, or any other college, he must be enrolled in that department NOW, and he must sign an affidavit to the effect that he, to the best of his knowledge, will be in that department all of next year. The fact that only two years (at least), are required to complete the course in any of the undergraduate departments in this University complicates the considerations as to the requirements for eligibility.

The Council considered several possible solutions and only adopted the present provision after much discussion. It realizes this is a difficult problem. It is possible that a better solution may be evolved. The Council therefore invites the aspiring candidates to forward their opinions on this important subject in the ensuing campaign. It is one meriting their most careful consideration.

There has been great activity among the students in some of the smaller departments, especially Government and Fine Arts. The larger departments of Junior College, and the Law School have not, however, outwardly manifested the same degree of interest.

There are more Council members to be elected from these larger departments and to get the signatures of 5 per cent of the students necessary to nominate a candidate one aspiring to office or those sponsoring him exert a greater effort, for to nominate in one of these departments, a greater number of signers is required. It must be remembered that there are more students in these departments, however, and that signatures are therefore more plentiful.

The Student Council wishes to make it clear as to how many petitions for nominating candidates a student may sign. A student may sign the same number of petitions in his department as the number of representatives on the Council to which his department is entitled.

Thus a student in Junior College may sign three different petitions, this department being entitled to three members on the Council. A student in Columbian College or one in the Law School may sign two different petitions, each of these schools being entitled to two members on the Council. A student enrolled in any of the other departments may sign only one petition for these departments are entitled to only one member each. The petitions of the respective candidates will be carefully checked by the elections committee and it should not be forgotten that if the name of a student appears on too many petitions, his name will be stricken from all the petitions whereon it appears.

Fraternity Confers Honor

On Oliver Wendell Holmes

Oliver Wendell Holmes, former Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, was presented with the diamond crowned badge of the Delta Theta Phi law fraternity on Wednesday, March 9. Horace L. Lohnes of the Woodrow Wilson Senate of George Washington University arranged for the presentation, which was made by Joseph T. Bergeron of Cleveland, Ohio, chancellor of the fraternity.

A dinner meeting of the University and alumni senates of Washington was held at the Hay-Adams House following the presentation. Chancellor Bergeron recalled that the honor conferred on Justice Holmes is the highest award of the fraternity, and has only been given to eight persons. Those who have received the honor are William Howard Taft, the last Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court; Edward Douglas White, and Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of War. The diamond crowned badge is awarded by vote of the national senate to alumni members who have rendered distinguished service to the fraternity or who have distinction in the practice or teaching of the law.

Justice Holmes has been a member of the fraternity since 1903, when he was initiated by the Holmes Senate at Dickinson School of Law, Carlisle, Pennsylvania.

While in Washington, Chancellor Bergeron unofficially visited with the George Washington University senate and complimented the members on their fine scholarship and excellent scholastic standing.

Men Debaters Meet University of Florida

Question of Congress' Legislative Control of Industry Is Discussed

DeWitt Bennett and Philip Merryman, representing the George Washington University Club, opposed a team from the University of Florida in a debate held Saturday night, March 5, in Corcoran 33. W. W. Ayres and H. B. Wahl upheld the negative of the question. Resolved, That Congress should enact legislation providing for the authorized control of industry. The speakers were introduced by Professor Henry Goddard Roberts.

Merryman, the first speaker, gave a general outline of the proposed plan, and discussed four serious handicaps that had been overcome in it. Ayres, opening the negative, refuted several of the affirmative's points, and established a constructive argument. Bennett followed, giving the details of the plan offered by Gerard Swope and Senator La Follette, which allows for the appointment of an economic council by the President, with the advice of the Senate, to establish the policies to be carried out by boards formed in each industry.

The negative team used Russia as an example of unsuccessful government interference. They based their argument chiefly on the following points: First, the unsuccessful past of such plans; second, the loose definition of control; third, that the plan has no teeth to make it enforceable; fourth, the proposed plan would be too expensive. The affirmative stated that their plan would eliminate waste, unemployment, recurring business cycles, and wars.

Sigma Chi: 476, 486, 485; D. T. D., 460, 471, 487.

The interfraternity bowling competition hears completion. Acacia will roll Theta Upsilon Omega and Phi Sigma Kappa will engage Theta Delta Chi sometime during the middle of next week. These matches will finish the schedule and next Saturday is the date set for the finals at which the Greek pin-spilling championship will be decided. This week saw Kappa Sigma topping S. P. E., taking all three contests; while Sigma Nu Sigma astonished followers of Hellenic bowlers by taking two games out of three from Kappa Alpha. Sigma Nu very conclusively whipped the S. A. E.'s and Sigma Chi came through by winning two out of three games from Delta Tau Delta.

Two matches will take place during the next week, probably Wednesday between Acacia and T. U. O., while the Phi Sigs will roll Theta Delta Chi. A lot of importance is attached to these two matches as Acacia lead League A at the culmination of last week's contests and Phi Sigma Kappa are tied as runner-up.

The two contestants in the finals cannot be determined until the mid-week matches are completed.

Baseball Candidates Practice for Series

Sports Calendar Will Include
Tennis, Golf, Horseshoes and Swimming

With spring just around the corner, announcement comes this week of the first call for candidates for the intramural baseball series.

The league this year will be similar to those of the past, being composed of six teams, Law School, Pre-Medical School, Columbian College, Pharmacy School, Junior College, and School of Engineering. Awards will be given to the winning team in the form of a large silver loving cup, and lettered sweaters to the men who are chosen as the intramural all-star team. Awards are also given to the player chosen as the most valuable to his team and to the most efficient manager.

The teams will be composed of twelve players who will be furnished with baseball suits bearing the lettering of their school. Catcher's and first basemen's equipment will also be furnished.

Assistant Athletic Director Max Farrington will be in charge and all applicants for managership will report to him immediately. Complete schedule of the games will be arranged as soon as possible. It will be similar to last year, a double round robin, each team playing their opponents twice.

All students interested in baseball are requested to see their respective managers or give their name to Farrington at the athletic office. It is not necessary to be an all-star player to play on the teams as the principle purpose of the intramurals is to give everyone a chance.

The intramural sports calendar this year has been enlarged to include along with baseball, tennis, and golf, the game of horseshoes and swimming. The department is anxious to include track and if enough interest is shown will include it on the program. Any candidates will give their name and event to Jean Sexton at the office.

Rifle Team Shoots Match With Washington University

The varsity women's rifle team last Saturday shot a match with the University of Washington. The scores have not yet been received from Washington U., but interest runs high in this match as it is always a close contest.

The high five scores made by the George Washington team were as follows:

Caroline Robert	100
Grace White	100
Naomi Myers	100
Ruth Schmidt	99
Ruth White	98

Spring Grid Work Held In Gymnasium

Winter Weather Sends Gridders to Shelter; Funda-mentals Stressed

Mid-winter ice, snow and cold has failed to stop spring football now concluding its second week of daily workouts in the gymnasium. With only room for about twenty-five men, last year's freshmen and varsity players have been, generally speaking, given preference over the new men as far as practice this last week has been concerned.

So far only the fundamentals of certain plays and types of blocking are being gone over and all mistakes being corrected. The work which they have done up to this week has been purely elementary work in preparation for outdoor practice in the future. It is still far too early to be able to determine the who's who of next season, but everyone is getting into condition in preparation for the outdoor scrimmages. Coach Len Walsh hopes to be able to move into a faster pace soon.

Nine Hard Matches On Tennis Schedule

Hampden-Sidney, Duquesne and Pittsburgh Included
on Lengthy Card

The prospect of nine matches with outstanding collegiate racquetball has sent interest in varsity tennis sky-high. Included in this lengthy and difficult schedule is a two-day excursion to Pittsburgh when the University of Pittsburgh and Duquesne will be met.

Allan Stauby, Chen Lee, R. Sherry, L. Sherry and Ray Gable as well as some prospective new material are the nucleus around which a representative team will have to be built. The loss of last year's captain, Bob Considine, no doubt, will be keenly felt.

The varsity tennis schedule:

April 13—John Hopkins Here
20—St. Johns of Annapolis Here (Tentative)
29—Hampden Sidney Here
May 4—Duke University Here
6—St. Johns of Brooklyn Here
10—Pittsburgh Pittsburgh
11—Duquesne Pittsburgh (Tentative)
18—St. Johns of Annapolis Annapolis
20—Temple Here

Junior-Senior Rifle Team Victorious in Class Match

The interclass rifle team match has been won by the junior-senior team which was composed of Margaret Claxton, Beatrice Coleman, Lethama DeShazo, Annabelle McCullough, Edythe Mitchell, and Pauline Schaub. The contest was extremely close and was finally won by a margin of five points.

Off-hand Shooting Taught Women Interested in Rifle

Prone shooting will be continued for the next few weeks, and off-hand shooting will be taught any women riflers who are interested. Next year the individual and inter-class matches will probably be shot in both the prone and off-hand positions, and there will most likely be three stages for the individual match.

The following girls are especially urged to continue their shooting during the next two weeks: Jean Christie, Jane Crow, Margaret Claxton, Marguerite Thomas and Mary Louise Yach. These girls are considered to be varsity prospects for next year, and are to receive special coaching.

Frosh Lose Final Meet in Baltimore

The freshman Colonial swimming team in its final meet of the season offered stubborn resistance to the Baltimore Y. M. H. A. natators, who gained a 39-36 decision last Saturday night in their own pool. The outstanding performance of the evening goes to the record-breaking swim of John Hain, G. W. backstroke, who set a pool record in his event.

The little Colonials outclassed the Baltimoreans in the fancy diving with Boner and Sompayrac first and second places respectively. Hain, Trammell, and McMillan captured the 150-yd. medley relay to give the yearlings three first places out of eight events.

Freshmen, Juniors, Lose Final Rounds

Senior and Sophomore Victories End Women's Basketball Tournament

In the final round of the women's interclass basketball tournament the seniors won a hard fought victory from the freshmen with a score of 38-33, while the sophomores staged a brilliant comeback in defeating the juniors 25-14.

The freshmen took the lead early in the first quarter and maintained supremacy throughout the half, having a 23-9 lead over the seniors at the sound of the whistle.

The upperclass team opened the second half with a whirlwind attack which piled up six baskets to their credit. The beautiful defense of the senior guards, and the star shots of Janice Hyatt, senior forward, tied the score 26-26 at the end of the third period.

The sophomore team clicked for the first time this season in its tilt with the juniors. Bessie Buchanan scored two baskets in the first two minutes of play, and the sophs were on their way to an 8-6 lead at the close of the first period. The second quarter was hard fought, the teams breaking about even and scoring little.

"Choosey" People like the way they TASTE..

IT'S just what you'd expect. People who enjoy the good things of life... are constantly looking for something better to eat and drink... and smoke.

In cigarettes this better taste can come only from finer ingredients. Chesterfields are more satisfying to the cultivated palate. For one thing, there's never any attempt to skimp on Turkish leaf.

These richly flavored Turkish tobaccos are added with a generous hand.

In fact Chesterfield's new way of mingling tobacco flavors and aromas is really the equivalent of an entirely new kind of tobacco . . . one that combines the best qualities of Turkish and fine Domestic leaf.

Perhaps you've noticed too, that the paper in Chesterfields is whiter... purer. It burns without taste or odor.

Smoke Chesterfields whenever you like... They're mild and pure. They'll never tire you as an over-sweetened cigarette might easily do. Light up and see for yourself. They satisfy!

Dance Classes Will Give Annual Recital

Affair Will Be Staged in Pierce Hall, March 17, at 8:15 P. M.

The rhythmic dancing classes of the Women's Physical Education Department will present their annual spring recital at Pierce Hall of the Unitarian Church on March 17 at 8:15 p. m. The program includes several dances worked out especially for this event, as well as an exhibition of the actual class work.

Among the examples of class work to be presented are Fundamentals, a study in swinging movements, contraction, relaxation, and studies in curved movements and linear design.

"Harlequinade," a pantomime done by four women, and "Danse Lente," a graceful composition interpreted by two dancers, will intersperse the group numbers.

As the final number on the program, Orchestis, the interpretive dancing club, will present the famous old legend, "Le Jongleur de Notre Dame," done in pantomime.

Picked Teams Meet In Basketball Finals

Even Team Outclasses Odd Sextette; Berryman and Nyatt Star

The women's interclass basketball tournament was brought to a close last Thursday night when two all-star teams clashed. The Even team completely routed the Odd sextet by a 48-4 score in the gymnasium. Hyatt and Berryman of the Even team chalked up 25 and 23 points respectively.

Teams were composed of players picked from the class squads which have been competing during the year. The Even team was picked from the sophomore and senior classes and the Odd team from the Freshman and junior class squads. The honorary varsity will be selected from among these players.

Passing by the Even team was the most noteworthy part of the fray, with the floor game centered around Catherine Crane at the center position. Especial credit should be given to her for the way in which she handled the ball at all times. Although outclassed by the Even team the Odd sextet played a good game, Dorothy Wilson especially deserving mention for her work in the guarding position.

GIRLS

Do Not Smoke Pipes

THE GIRLS haven't left us many of our masculine rights. They fly our airplanes, drive our cars, smoke our cigarettes—but they don't smoke our pipes! They've left us this one manly right, anyway.

A man almost has to smoke a pipe nowadays. A pleasant necessity! For a pipe filled with good tobacco is just about the best smoke a man could want.

And if you're troubled about selecting a tobacco, remember that Edgeworth is the popular favorite in 42 out of 54 colleges. It somehow seems to fit the college man's taste. Edgeworth is cut especially for pipes, it burns slowly, it gives a cool smoke. You can buy Edgeworth wherever good tobacco is sold. Or, for a special sample packet, write to Larus & Bro., Co., 100 S. 23d St., Richmond, Va.
